

The first bar chart is the number of medals won by each country in each sport, the second bar chart is the number of medals won by each country, the third pie chart is the number of medals won in each event, and the fourth bar chart is the number of gold, silver and bronze medals won by each country.

According to the chart, the United States won the most medals, followed by Canada.

Their favorite sport is skiing, followed by ice hockey.